The rules

The Boxing competition will be held in accordance with the latest edition of the following document that is in force at the time of the Games:

- The International Boxing Association (AIBA) Technical and Competition Rules, available at www.aiba.org

Judges and Scoring

In accordance with the AIBA Technical and Competition Rules, all contests in the men's Boxing competition will consist of three rounds of three minutes each. All women's contests will consist of four rounds of two minutes each. In both men's and women's bouts, there will be a rest period of one minute between rounds.

A boxer scores a point when he or she delivers a blow that, without being blocked or guarded, lands directly with the knuckle part of the closed glove of either hand on any part of the front or sides of the head or the body above the belt.

The scoring system will be based on a 'Ten Point Must System'. Five judges will be selected at random to take positions around the ring. Just before starting each Bout, the scoring system will randomly select three out of the five judges and only the scores of those three judges will be counted.

Clothing and equipment

Clothing and equipment used by athletes and other participants in the Boxing competition must comply with the following documents:

- AIBA Technical Competition Rules (Appendix F: Boxer's Uniform Guidelines; Appendix J: Glove and Headguard Specification and Guidelines)
- AIBA Rules of Infrastructure and Equipment, available at www.aiba.org.
- European Games Rules on Advertising, Demonstrations and Propaganda

Competition format

The Boxing competition will be run in a standard single-elimination format in all weight categories. The winners of the semi-finals in each weight category will compete against each other in the gold medal contest; the losers of each semi-final will be awarded bronze medals
